Research highlights of scientific initiation are awarded

Six best papers developed by scientific initiation academics (Pibic / Pibiti) in the 2016/2017 cycle were awarded in February. In addition to certification, two UCDB Masters Scholarships were awarded to academics with the highest scores. They were chosen through curricular analysis, production of scientific articles and participation in events. "We are in a University that prioritizes and has always invested in the area of research. We are proud of our students because they are working hard and searching for more knowledge. This year, we hope that new research will be carried out successfully so that this is always our differential", said Cristiano Espinola Carvalho, UCDB Pro-Dean of Research and Graduate Studies.

HISTORIAN

WHERE TO WORK?

The Degree in History is qualified to give classes, either in schools or in higher education, or can pursue the career of researcher. He also works in consultancies, agencies that take care of the public patrimony, museums, publishers and everything that involves researches on past times.

Have you ever thought how the political, social, economic and cultural moment that we live today will be told in a few years' time and studied by the next generations? Yeah. Living "historical moments" is not just a force of expression, since many facts will be recorded in books, studies, researches, dissertations and theses. And much of these records are made and will be told at the hands of the history teacher.

"The historian, based on the scientific rigor of the Human Sciences, has this important function: to research and record the facts, always with the maximum of exemption", said UCDB Professor of History, Marcelo Picolli.

"This is one of the functions: when writing books, when giving classes, it is up to the historian to tell the truths. And every fact has two or more sides to analyze, to hear. That is why deep research on the facts is so necessary", said Roberto Figueiredo, coordinator of the UCDB History course.

"Until the lions have their own historians, the hunting stories will continue to glorify the hunter."

FORMULA BAJA Team back with more experience

UCDB Academics participated in the 24th Baja Sae Brazil
Competition

Academics of the Mechanical Engineering and Control and Automation courses at the Dom Bosco Catholic University (UCDB), in Campo Grande (MS), members of the Javalis UCDB team, participated from the 22nd to the 25th of February of the 24th National Sae Baja Brazil Competition, in São José dos Campos (SP). The team, which participates for the second time, returns to Campo Grande with more experience in the luggage compared to the previous year.

“We had some problems in the safety assessment, but overall we were a lot better than last year. Our project was highly praised. We evolved a lot in the project and also in the presentation”, celebrated professor Daniel Laporte, who accompanied the team.

He also emphasized that the academics manufactured the brake system of the project, similar to the commercial one. “The pursuit of technical excellence in an engineering competition is very important, and this is well regarded by judges. The results, like running the enduro, the dynamic tests, will surely come with time! Proof of this is that we are better than last year”.
